

A Yemeni operating institution · Aden

Company Profile

Turning Yemeni talent into work the world recognises.

English edition · 2026

§ FROM THE FOUNDER

Built where it is most needed.

Yemen has never lacked talent. It has lacked the institutional layer that puts talent to work to a standard the world recognises.

For more than a decade I watched Yemeni professionals — designers, engineers, writers, translators — produce work any market would pay for. The work went unseen, was mispriced, or never reached its client. The problem was never the talent. It was the absence of a credible company standing between that talent and the world.

Kayan is the company we built to close that gap. We are a Yemeni firm, founded in Aden, opening on the Corniche. We run projects and stand behind them; we train and credential; we keep a workspace and a café; and we stand with our city. We do these things inside one institution because they belong together — and because Aden deserves a place that does them well.

— Maher Faisal Saeed Farea · Founder & Chief Executive

01 WHAT KAYAN IS

One institution, not a marketplace.

Kayan is a Yemeni operating institution headquartered in Aden. We do not list providers and leave the rest to chance. We run the work, verify the people, and put a recognisable name behind the result — so that excellent service stops depending on luck.

Behind every successful project, a Kayan.

Connecting Excellence. Empowering Growth.

02 WHERE WE STAND

From Aden, for Aden.

Built where resilience is not optional.

We are from this city and in it — a place full of talent that needs only a path. We stand alongside the government's and partners' efforts to rebuild Aden, and we put its talent on the road to work. Where reliability is hardest to find is exactly where we chose to be reliable.

03 WHAT WE DO

Four lines of work, and a hand for the city.

Managed Delivery

We run the work, and stand behind it.

We carry a project from scope to delivery through a pod — a small, accountable team with one point of contact — so a client deals with an institution, not a lone contractor.

The Hub

Where Aden works.

A workspace on the Corniche for independent professionals and small teams to do their best work, meet, and belong.

The Café

Coffee began in Aden. The conversation continues here.

A place to meet, work, and gather — and a front door to everything Kayan does, in the city that first gave the world coffee.

Kayan Forge

From training to a first job.

Practical training that carries talent to real work — not a certificate for its own sake, but a path to a first job and a trusted name.

Kayan for Yemen

From Aden, for Aden.

Our civic arm — standing with the city's rebuilding, opening doors for its young people, and reporting what it achieves by name and number.

04 HOW WE WORK

Accountable, verified, clear.

Every project runs through a pod: a project lead, the specialists the work needs, and quality review. A clear scope and milestones are agreed before we begin. You work in two-week steps with weekly demos, and one point of contact answers to you throughout.

We don't send freelancers. We deliver work.

Our talent is verified before we vouch for it. A trusted name in the Kayan network means the work has been checked — by people, against a standard — and that an institution stands behind it.

05 FOR EACH OF YOU

The same truth, said to you.

CLIENT We run your project with a verified team and a clear scope, and deliver results that meet your expectations.

TALENT We turn Yemeni talent into real work, and give it a trusted name in the market.

SPONSOR A cohort that carries your name, bringing Yemeni talent into real work.

AUTHORITY A Yemeni partner contributing to Aden's rebuilding, putting its talent on the path to work.

06 BUILT FOR EVERY ABILITY

One door, one width.

We never sort people into a category or set a group apart — that, itself, is the exclusion we refuse. We see what a person can do, and we describe them by their work. The door to Kayan is one width, and everyone walks through it the same.

07 IMPACT

Name and number, never pity.

We measure what we do in names and numbers — how many trained, how many reached work — and we tell a person's story by what they now do, not by what they once lacked. Every sponsor receives the result the same way: standing, working, named.

08 LEADERSHIP & GOVERNANCE

A serious institution, run seriously.

Kayan is led by its founder and chief executive, Maher Faisal Saeed Farea, with a small executive team across finance, operations, partnerships, and government relations. We hold ourselves to written governance: clear ownership of every decision, dual approval on payments, and a documented standard behind every line of work.
