

CAPABILITY STATEMENT · BOARDROOM EDITION

Proof of delivery, not promise.

How Kayan converts verified Yemeni talent into delivered outcomes a client can trust — with defined scope, guaranteed payment, and a record that compounds.

The talent was always here. The system was not.

Yemen has never lacked capability. It has lacked the infrastructure that lets capability be found, trusted, and held to account. Kayan builds that infrastructure as an institution — so the client no longer carries the risk alone.

How do I know this person will deliver, and what is my recourse if they do not?

Kayan answers that question structurally, not anecdotally. Every person on the map is verified. Every engagement runs through a defined scope of work. Every payment sits within a financial guarantee until delivery is signed off at a defined gate. The standing that used to rest on one fragile reputation now rests on the institution.

The delivery model

01

Verify

Identity, credentials, and history confirmed across rising verified tiers before any engagement.

02

Scope

A defined scope of work sets deliverables, milestones, and acceptance criteria in writing.

03

Guarantee

Client payment is held in a financial guarantee, released only against signed-off delivery.

04

Deliver

A delivery team executes under managed oversight, with staged quality gates throughout.

05

Sign-off

Acceptance at the final gate releases payment and a post-delivery quality buffer.

06

Record

The completed engagement becomes a verified record that raises tiers and compounds trust.

◆ HOW STANDING IS EARNED

Verified tiers, ascending.

Trust is not declared; it is accumulated. Each delivered engagement lifts a profile through five verified tiers — from first registration to institutionally backed standing at the apex.

Tier	Standing	What it means to a client
Anchor	Institutionally backed	Kayan stands behind this person at the highest level of assurance.
Proven	Repeated verified delivery	A consistent record of signed-off outcomes across engagements.
Established	Track record on platform	Demonstrated reliability with verified deliverables.
Verified	Identity & credentials confirmed	Confirmed to be who they say, with the skills they claim.
Registered	On the map	Entered and awaiting verification — visible, not yet vouched for.

Capability domains

Kayan mobilises verified talent across the domains Yemeni organisations and their partners most need delivered with assurance.

Technology & Software Web and platform development, data, and digital products under managed delivery.	Design & Brand Visual identity, content, and communication built to an institutional standard.
Business & Finance Analysis, modelling, and operational support grounded in verified competence.	Capacitation Kayan Forge prepares and mobilises talent for real engagements, not abstract training.

Who owns what, and what protects you.

Accountability is designed in. Every engagement has a clear owner, a clear doer, and a defined point of recourse — so a client always knows where responsibility sits.

Engagement stage	Kayan owns	Client holds
Verification	Confirming identity, credentials, tier	Confidence the person is real and capable
Scope of work	Defining deliverables and acceptance	A written, agreed basis for the work
Financial guarantee	Holding payment until sign-off	Recourse if delivery falls short
Delivery oversight	Managing the delivery team to the gates	A single accountable counterpart
Post-delivery	Holding a quality buffer after sign-off	Protection against latent defects

The institutional difference

A freelancer offers a promise. Kayan offers a structure. Where an individual can disappear, an institution remains — to verify before, to manage during, and to stand behind after. That is the difference between hiring a person and engaging Kayan.

Who can stand behind this person, and what is that standing worth?

For the first time in Yemen, there is a clear answer: Kayan can, and the standing is verified, recorded, and backed.

Behind every successful project, a Kayan.
